UW-Madison Faculty Living in the 1970's – Please Rejoin the Real World
Nass: No Confidence vote proves greater reforms of UW System urgently needed.

Senator Steve Nass (R-Whitewater), Vice-Chairman of the Senate Committee on Universities and Technical Colleges, issued the following statement regarding the pending vote of the UW-Madison Faculty Senate on a resolution of No Confidence in System President Ray Cross and the Board of Regents:

“The No Confidence vote isn’t really about President Cross or the Board of Regents. The radical faculty at UW-Madison are rejecting the values and expectations of the people of Wisconsin. They are backhanding the middle class families who are pleading for controls on tuition and an end to wasteful spending in the UW System.

Passage of the resolution will prove that even more institutional reforms are urgently needed and must be included in the next state budget to protect tuition-paying students.”
